“ I always enjoyed visiting my Uncle Joe and Aunt Joan. As a youngster we enjoyed our cousins and their friends. Always saw them on holidays at our Nannies house. Joe and Joan were always a loving couple and example of what love and marriage should be. Two people who love each other very much. I saw this through decades. So sorry to see you move on, Uncle Joe but our loss is heaven's gain. God bless

“ My Dad was the most wonderful man. He was Papa Bear and the Cat Man. He taught me all about the importance of hard work, taking pride in what you do, and living life to the fullest with an open heart. He would jump right in an help where ever and when ever he was needed. He always had a smile, a wink, or a funny comment for everyone he met and a dog treat in his pocket for every dog. He loved meeting, talking to and being with people. He had so many interesting stories ready to tell and an occasional goofy prank up his sleeve. He was full of love and was ready to give a big hug at anytime. I'll miss so many, many things about him. He preferred laughter over tears and that is how I'll always remember him, with a warm smile on his face and a twinkle in his eye.

“ Joe was the best neighbor anyone could ask for. He always greeted me with a warm smile and kind words. He was my “go to” when I needed advice about how to fix something or what nail or screw to use. I could always count on my empty recycling bin being delivered to my garage door on Friday’s when I came home from work. He loved animals, especially his beloved cat Mikey, who walked with Joe on the road. He willingly handed out treats to all the neighborhood dogs and called them by name. I feel lucky to have lived next door to him for the last ten years. He will be sorely missed by all who knew him.

“ My Dad was my best friend. We enjoyed each other and relied on each other and shared a trust and an unconditional love that lifted us both. I miss him popping up at my house and at the riverfront, and in town, seemingly everywhere- I’d see him, always out & about. Always available for hugs and humor and thoughtful, wise advice or quiet company. Always busy, always helping, always loving. I miss him, I miss him. I miss his quirky needs and his crooked smile and the squeeze of his hand.
