“ I remember the first time we met in 2003. You were out back in the garden smoothing the dirt and getting it ready for the coming season. You found peace and contentment there and had a magical green thumb. No doubt whatever version of that they have in heaven, that is where you will be found. I remember thinking how courageous you, Bradley and your family must be to let this stranger come into your lives. Now you know all the answers to the most puzzling questions. Rest in peace. You've earned it. Mr. Bill
