

Alan Edward Koblin

March 10, 1931 - November 16, 2022

Alan Edward Koblin of Chestertown, MD, (formerly of Malden, MA) passed away at home most peacefully on November 16, 2022, at the age of 91.

He was a retired New York restaurateur at the Lion's Head in Greenwich Village and is survived by his wife, Eugenia Draper Marshall. In Alan's own words, he was "a Jew, a Democrat, and a Red Sox fan – though not necessarily in that order."

Join us to commemorate him on Wednesday, November 30, 1-3pm, at the White Swan Tavern on High Street.

“ Alan was the nicest person to come in the Kent County Public Library. He knew all of us on staff and always greeted us warmly. I am sorry I am just now learning of his death. My deepest sympathies to you Eugenia, family and friends.

“ When I was a child, I saw my Uncle Alan infrequently. He towered over me but only ever for a moment. Upon seeing him, I would be scooped all the way up to his smiling face and greeted with a booming "How ya doin', Peanut?" He had a way of making me feel like the most precious little girl in the world. He was the first painter I ever knew and showed me original art for the first time. It is no coincidence that I am now a painter. Thank you Uncle Alan, for the gift that you were to me. I love you.

“ Alan and I grew up together in Malden. His mother would bring him to my house on GRAPE st. and we would play while the mothers would socialize. We stayed in touch and met at a class reunion. I shall miss him terribly.
