“ George and I are so sorry for the loss of Ms. Alice. I just found out and I have wonderful memories of both her family and ours being together as I grew up. The day I married George Ms. Alice did my hair and I will never forget the talk she gave me and how beautiful of a person she was. My best time was when I had to ride in a Crab basket to town on the tractor so everyone could get some grocery's in the blizzard. May you find peace and remember all the great times and she has left you all with a strong legacy. My thoughts and prayers are with all of you through this difficult time.##imported-begin##George and Candy Wilson##imported-end##

“ To Wayne and family: My deepest sympathies in the homegoing of your wonderful mother, "Miss Alice." Her life was an example to all, and my own life is enriched, just knowing her. My first memory of her was when, after my mother's hair appointment on a Saturday afternoon, she played her organ for us and I heard for the first time, "Londonderry Air," better known as "O Danny Boy." I stood at her Right elbow, swelling with every note. May God comfort you in your sadness, especially on this Mother's Day weekend. We miss her already. One day we will all be together again. I think of the phrase in that beautiful hymn, "Earth has no sorrows that heaven cannot heal." With love and prayers for you and all your family across the miles, Cecelia ("Cealie") Hudson Frame, Roanoke, VA##imported-begin##Cecelia Hudson Frame##imported-end##
