“ With Thanksgiving tomorrow, the first holiday without my dad, I think of how sad and different this year is without him here, with him here helping me cook. So I’m looking back on some good memories instead. Miss you Dad. A lot.

“ I met Allan when we were in 10th grade biology class. We sat next to each other. I don't think I learned that much because Allan and I were too busy cutting up. He had such a great sense of humor and was genuine. I loved him as a dear friend from that moment on. He was a great practical joker and got me good many times, and I would laugh till I was crying.

Within the last 5 years we reconnected on Facebook and I had just gotten a baby Chihuahua and quickly found out that Ace was a huge fan too. We would talk about our baby Chi's like they were our kid's. I know how devastated he was when he lost Paris.

There are so many memories that I hold dear to my heart from our school years. I used to crack up when his Dad would see him cutting school and say, "Ace get in the car" We lived in the small Community of Woodlawn and my Mom worked at the County Hospital and saw Officer Hart many times while they were on duty together. Apples don't fall far from the trees, because Officer Hart had a great sense of humor too. My Mother would leave from work and Officer Hart would pull her over not because she was doing any thing wrong but just because he could, lol. He would pull her over and then say, "Gloria, look at everyone looking at you, lol"

Allan was a great guy, always had a passion for music and so did I. I will remember him with the fondest of memories and already miss him so much!! Rest well, dear Allan, until we meet again!!!

Sending Love and Prayers to all of Allan's family!

“ Brothers. That's what we called each other. Allan and I met when bikes with high-rise handlebars and banana seats were the preferred method of transportation. We liked the Beach Boys, Beatles, and Monkees, but Allan was a hardcore Stones fan. Every Friday after school, we would go to G.C. Murphy's and buy 69 cent records that were in the Top 10. We had a lawn cutting business netting us $5 a lawn. Later we got our social security cards and went to work for Mr. G's. We hung out at Westview Mall and Benny's Pool Hall. We would get dressed up and put on some Hai Karate or Jade East aftershave and go to the Westway Theater, stopping at Gin's or Rustler Steakhouse on the way. We were in each other's weddings and we both sired daughters. Time would go by without us talking, but when we would reconnect, it was like we had spoken the day before. I miss my friend. We were Brothers.

“ My best memories will always be getting home from work, sitting down and you would say “ hey did you hear what happened with whatever was the biggest story with one of his local teams?” And no matter if I had heard I would always say no. Just to hear your take on the story. Great times. Going to miss that very much. We shared a strong bond through not only sports but a love like no other for your daughter. I made you a promise that I will always take care of her. I will keep that promise till I take my last breath. You were not only my father in law. You were also my friend. I will miss you dearly. Love you old timer.
