“ I first met Annie in the sixties while visiting my father. He would take me along on dates with the women he was currently seeing. It was fun. When Annie came along, I thought she was the best! Kind and smart, she had a bit of mischief about her. My father agreed and they got married.

When they lived in Naples, Italy, Annie and I were downtown one day when a man started to follow us. We walked faster. He walked faster. Annie reached in her purse and then threw some coins in his direction. He disappeared.

Ten years later, I was walking in Guadalajara, Mexico with my boyfriend. A car pulled up next to us and two guys got out. One of them pointed a gun at me. I laughed. They looked at each other, got back in the car and sped away.

Thank you Annie for showing me the Art of the Unexpected!
She was a great stepmother. Always ready to be helpful.

“ Annie and George shared an inspiring love story. She was always supportive of him and loving. None could get George to retire he was in the work for life. Annie supported him in every possible way.

“ It was a pleasure for me to have spent many years working with Dr. George Rever at the Caroline County Health Department Mental Health/Mid-Shore Regional Mental Health. I frequently had telephone conversations with Annie and it was easy to recognize the Magical relationship the couple shared. They will remain as cherished memories in my heart. Thoughts and prayers for the Family..
