

Annie Laurie Faulkner

April 8, 1942 - September 24, 2014

Annie Laurie Faulkner, formerly of Tilghman, MD, died peacefully on Wednesday, September 24, 2014, at her home with her loving nieces, Candy and Debbie, at her bedside. She was 72.

Annie was born on April 8, 1942, in Baltimore, MD. She was the daughter of the late William and Adele Ridenour.

Annie was married to Thomas Faulkner, and they lived in Tilghman for 42 years where they worked on the water together. She also worked as a cook at Chesapeake Landing.

Annie was a member of the Tilghman Methodist Church.

Annie is survived by her companion, James Faulkner, Sr.; brothers, George Ridenour and Billy Bichell; and many nieces and nephews. In addition to her parents, she was predeceased by her husband, Thomas Faulkner; and brothers, Will Ridenour, John Ridenour and Bunk Ridenour.

A funeral service will be held on Tuesday, September 30, 2014, at 11 a.m. at Fellows, Helfenbein & Newnam Funeral Home, P.A., 200 S. Harrison St., Easton, where friends may call one hour prior to the service.

Memorial contributions may be made to Talbot Hospice Foundation, 586 Cynwood Drive, Easton, MD 21601 or The American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 1306, Easton, MD, 21601.

“ I have kids now, I was just a kid myself when you left us for heaven. I miss you so much. You were the kindest and the strongest woman I have ever known. I will never forget how much you loved me even when I was a pain. I just wish you could've gotten to meet my kids Memaw. They are so amazing and I think often about how they would've both loved you and have been slightly intimidated just as I always was. I hope to be half the woman you were. I know you're watching over me and writing this is just redundant but I love you and miss you so much

“ Aunt Annie was there when I discovered 'True Blood' the series. We used to stay up all hours of the night watching 2-3 episodes at a time to catch up before the new season came on. And would get upset if I watched one without her. Ever once I moved out I would regularly check in with her regarding the recent events unfolding on the show. It was funny how into it she got :)
