“ Hagood and I are so sorry for your loss. Tony was an incredible man. I loved him from the first moment I met him. He was so sincere and such a gentleman of New England. I can see as if it was yesterday the first meal we ate together and hear the lively conversation started by Tony. When Jane joined us in Michaum I got to see a man so utterly in love with his wife it was a pleasure to behold. Over the years that we have known each other I have benefited greatly from Tony's wisdom and strength. He told me once, " You must go on. There is no other choice." And so we will go on always remembering the quiet humor, dignity and strength that Tony Scott personified.##imported-begin##Mary and Hagood Morrison##imported-end##
