“ This is Ron Covington. Lee and I were roommates in college. One night Lee stayed up most of the night trying to account for one penny in accounting homework. Lee eventually accounted for that penny. Lee and I traveled to California, one summer, stayed at our Fraternity House, Theta Chi, at one of the major universities. Lee was generous, with a magnetic personality and could organize a party on the spur of the moment. Lee was good at chess. In fact some would say he was really good. Lee was also good at getting someone to do something, he talked me into helping him paint his house one summer. Condolences to Marge , Jeff and the family. Keep a look out at the pearl y gates, my friend, I'll be joining you one day.
