“ *I was truly heart broken when I heard of Betsy's passing. I knew Betsy from years of working with her at Black & Decker. She was always a kind and thoughtful person towards everyone. To the family I would like to say this, there are not enough words to express how I am feeling for your loss. I know in time the lord will help you to move on. “ It is really difficult for me to express what I am feeling, but here I am. I could not pass up this opportunity to really say what I am feeling. When I received the email from Charlotte, I really could not get myself together. I am so sorry and heartbroken of learning of Betsy's passing. To me, she was such a sweet person. Whenever I saw her, she was still the same, always with a very pleasant smile. The last that I saw her was sometime in the summer at Acme and we just hugged one another and stood and talked. I was on my break, but I didn't care about the minutes that I had taken. Just to stand there and hold a conversation seemed to be all I wanted to do and she was enjoying it also. I gave her one last hug and went back to work. Jeanette and family, God is good and he does not make any mistakes. He has chosen your loved one at this time to be with him. It's no mistake. She was here and fulfilled her life expectancy and he was ready for her now. Yes, it will be hard for you all and for the people who came into contact with her. She had such a sweet spirit. Trust in God when you are having your low moments and the tears are falling. Just ask him to help you make it through. Jeff and Anne Marie, all is well. Take care and God Bless. Jeanette be strong. I love you all.##imported-begin##ARLETTA QUAILES PITT##imported-end##
