“ It has been many years since I worked the evening shift with Ms. Betty at Salisbury Nursing Home but I will never forget her gentle demeanor and never ending patience with all of the elderly she cared for. She was a hard working, realistic, and honest woman who never forgot her humble beginnings and was thankful for every blessing that came her way. I have an advanced degree today partly because of Ms. Betty's kind words and encouragement that, "education is an investment into your future."

I remember her being so very proud of her daughters and greatly cherishing her time with her grandchildren.

Ms. Betty you truly made the world a better place.

I will forever hold your memory in my heart.

God bless you.
