“ *The time you won your town the race
We chaired you through the market-place;
Man and boy stood cheering by,
And home we brought you shoulder-high.*

*To-day, the road all runners come,
Shoulder-high we bring you home,
And set you at your threshold down,
Townsmen of a stiller town.*

*Smart lad, to slip betimes away
From fields where glory does not stay
And early though the laurel grows
It withers quicker than the rose.*

*Eyes the shady night has shut
Cannot see the record cut,
And silence sounds no worse than cheers
After earth has stopped the ears:*

*Now you will not swell the rout
Of lads that wore their honours out,
Runners whom renown outran
And the name died before the man.*

*So set, before its echoes fade,
The fleet foot on the sill of shade,
And hold to the low lintel up
The still-defended challenge-cup.*

*And round that early-laurelled head
Will flock to gaze the strengthless dead,
And find withered on its curls
The garland briefer than a girl's.*

“ We just found out about this! Oh, Eddie, we're so very, very sorry!
The loss of a child is the very worst, and we cannot imagine the pain that you, his mom and family are going through. We're sad that you all have to go through this.

Lord, thank you that you're holding them in your arms, next to your heart. Bless the sharing of their memories and fill each of them with the beauty of each of those memories. Thank you. Amen. - David &
