

Brandon Thomas Roe

May 31, 1993 - November 4, 2016

Brandon Thomas Roe of Grasonville, MD, died on Friday, November 4, 2016, at his home from an accidental heroin overdose. He was 23.

Born May 31, 1993, in Chestertown, MD, he was the son of Ronald Wayne Roe Jr (Kathy) of Centreville, and Mary Christina “Chris” Myers Jones (Gordy) of Grasonville, MD.

Brandon, also known as “B Roe” by his friends, struggled with opiate addiction. He reached out to his friends that he knew was using and talked to them about getting help. He truly wanted to stay clean and not go back down that road. His family was so proud of him and thought he was winning the fight against the demon. This demon took a lot of things from him, ultimately his life.

Brandon was a loving and laid back kind of guy that enjoyed being outside, working on cars, hunting, boating, fishing and “chillin on a dirt road” with his friends. He loved all kinds of music, the louder the better. He enjoyed spending time with his nieces and had the biggest heart for dogs. He was a Momma's boy and wasn't ashamed to admit it.

His first job was on his fathers' crew at David A Bramble where his dad taught him his skill of running heavy equipment. At the time of his death, he worked for his stepfather at CGJ Environmental also running equipment.

He is survived by two brothers, Ronald "Wayne" Roe III (Emily) of Worton, MD, Joshua Allen Roe of Sudlersville, MD, step brother Joey Pleasant of Centreville, MD; two stepsisters, Randi Bone (Michael) of Church Hill, MD, and Taylor Pleasant of Rock Hall, MD; paternal grandparents, Ronald Wayne Roe, Sr. and Nancy Roe of Sandtown, MD; girlfriend, Kasey Lynn Quinn of Stevensville, MD; three nieces; four-legged daughter Dixie; and many aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends. He was predeceased by maternal grandparents, Carroll Woodrow Myers and Edith Dora Myers, formerly of Chestertown, MD.

Services will be held on Saturday, November 12, 2016, at 2:00 pm at Fellows, Helfenbein and Newnam Funeral Home in Centreville, MD, where friends and family may call from 12:00-2:00 pm.

“ You'd be 33 tomorrow. I cannot believe its going on 10 years. I wish you weren't needed so much by God. Cause man if only he knew how much you were needed down here, I dont think he'd have taken you so soon. I see your mom and Josh every now and again. Its nice to catch up with them. You'd be proud of who I am today. I just wish I had the chance to see how amazing of a human you would have turned out to be. Your nieces are getting so BIG. Your momma is getting older but still beautiful as ever. Everyone is. Year by year. One thing still remains tho. Even after all these years..... we all have a hole in our heart thats missing you. Love you brandon. I hope youre living it up, up there happy 33rd my guy.

“ I cherish every visit I get from you. Can't believe it's almost 9 years. I am always wondering who you'd have become, if you'd be happy wherever you'd be in life. In another universe , I like to think that you live a wholesome, wonderful, loving life. You would've made a great father. A great husband, and a great friend. But it seems God needed you more than we did down here. Here's to hoping and praying that one day we will meet again. I will never forget you brandon thomas roe. Until we meet again ❤️🥹

“ Appreciate your visits bran. They're more frequent and I cherish them. Wish you could've experienced what life has to offer. Hold your uncle Lonnie a little extra tight . Help him fight the good fight. We are all rooting for him to pull thru. But i know if youre there helping him fight then he just might make it. He deserves to. I can't wait until the day we see each other again. Still almost 7 years later not a single day goes by that you don't cross my mind. You deserved so much more than you gave yourself the chance to have. I will continue to wish that in our next lifetime, we get to do it right and we get to do it together until we are old and wrinkly. Forever missing you down here. Much love from me and all the ones that have ever loved you my guy. Love You bran. ❤️

“ I cannot believe that we are going on 7 years without you here. I swear there's never a day that goes by that I don't think of you. You will always be my very first love. The one I tell my kids about and show them that you can have different loves throughout life. I'm still in disbelief that God took you so damn soon. Out of all people why you?! Why?! I cherish ever single dream that you visit me in and look forward to the next. I do not ever see a day passing by where I don't wonder who you would've been and where'd you be. You deserved at least that. I'll always love you bran. And I cannot wait until we meet again ❤️😘

“ Here it is 6 years later. And I remember it like it was yesterday. I can feel you around me sometimes. And I notice it at the oddest times. And I know you hear me when I talk to you. My oldest son sometimes repeats me saying thanks bran. And I've told him about you. I appreciate every single dream that you visit me in and almost immediately tell your brother about it after I wake. This world hasn't gotten much better since you left but I still wonder if it would be a little more vibrant if you were still here. I'll never truly know. But one thing I do know is that I can't wait to be reunited with you again. I don't think I'll ever stop thinking about you. Continue to rest in peace my love. I love you ❤️

I've grown so much since i seen you last. Just wish you would've given yourself the same chance.... I'll see you one day bran. But until then...xoxo I love you ❤️

“ Chris, I'm so sorry to hear that Brandon lost the fight to the beast. Please remember as mothers we fix boo boo's, heartaches, wipe away tears when they fall. You couldn't fix this disease or beat the BEAST, don't blame yourself or think you could have saved him. He didn't grow up to be an addict. Addiction is an aggressive disease that is taking our loved ones, it wasn't just a choice. God has helped Brandon with his his pain, misery and suffering. God loves ALL his children. May your healing of this unimaginable tragedy be wrapped within the support of your family, friends and strangers who have felt your pain.
