“ A poem for the kids in our community and his family!

As, this white candle burns I see your beautiful smile in the flame of light.

As, the flame gets higher I see you are in a better place.

The Angels are surrounding you with peace and love, and you will never be alone again.

You will be used to help others get though this physical world you left.

You will shed your bright light upon the kids, so that they can see the right path to live in this world.

You will always be with me, as you touched my heart and soul forever.

“ Laurie; Tim and I were so deeply saddened by the news of Brandon's death. After my sister's death I found this poem helpful. I hope you do as well. It was written by Iris Bolton after the death of her son.

I don't know why.

I'll never know why.

I don't have to know why.

I don't like it.

I don't have to like it.

What I do have to do is make a choice about my living.

What I do want to do is accept it and go on living.

The choice is mine.

*I can go on living, valuing every moment in a way I never did before, or I can be destroyed by it and,
in turn, destroy others.*

I thought I was immortal.

That my family and my children were also.

That tragedy happened only to others.

But I know now that life is tenuous and valuable.

*So I am choosing to go on living,
making the most of the time I have,
valuing my family and friends
in a way never possible before.*

May you find peace in time, your time.
