“ Dear Roger, Dick & I are so very sorry to learn of Carol Sue's passing. Looking back, we've laughed many times about that incredible, crazy day we all spent together all those years ago trying to settle on our home here in Oxford. You were the much-needed levity that wild & fitful day and Carol Sue certainly proved herself as the consummate stalwart professional! (We wondered if all your closings were that exciting & hoped not!) It was such a pleasure to get to know you both as friends and to spend time in the company of such a loving, devoted and happy couple. Carol Sue had countless accomplishments to be proud of in her lifetime and countless friends, as well. She touched so many lives in so many wonderful ways and we're all the better for it. Please know how sad we are. She will be deeply missed.

“ The Clark and Clark Team were just that ... inseparable. I remember Roger as my high school vice principal and members of the Presbyterian Church of Easton where Carol Sue was the organist. Last year, the Clarks were our realtors and we spent a lot of time together. Carol Sue handled the business end of things. She was always prepared, organized our portfolio, and invested hours showing our home. Roger was never too busy to take our calls or show us property. Always a gentleman. We miss Carol Sue, but know that by her faith in God she has gone to a place of peace where we will meet again ... a Heavenly Home. Craig and Rose Marie Langrell

“ My memories of Carol Sue are from Easton High. We both worked on the school paper and one summer were camp counselors together. She was always the calm one, the pragmatic one. Even as a teenager, she understood peoples' characters, flaws and all, and managed to work with them. Always courteous, always finding solutions to problems.

“ I remember being so excited about being interviewed for the position at St. Michaels Community Center and had a lunch date with one of the Advisory Board members. I was very nervous and didn't know what to expect. I arrived at Key Lime Cafe to meet my inquisitor and met Carol Sue for the first time. I was touched by how gentle and sweet she was. She made me feel very comfortable like an old friend. I felt so grateful to have shared lunch with her that day and incredibly honored to have gained her trust for the job. She'll be sorely missed. My love and prayers to the family. Trish Payne

“ I will remember that Carol always had a smile on her face that would light up the room. She will be missed and to Rodger I send my sympathy. I can say this time will help you get through the tunnel you are in right now. But, you will never forget her. My deepest sympathy to the Clark Family
