That was a beautiful tribute. My heart and prayers go out to the Stinton family. I'm so very sorry this happened but she is with her pop pop now. God is with them both and all are watching over all of you.

Judy Parrott Schwaninger - April 21, 2015 at 08:01 AM

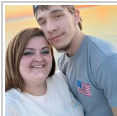

As they lay you to rest today, they will shed tears, they will long to hold you near. Our hearts will forever ache to understand why you had to leave us so soon. You have given us memories we will cherish forever in our souls. Look over your family and friends, for we know your presence will always be there to remind us this world must come to an end, when we are called home. We lift you up and soar high sweet child of God.

“ Cassidy was my oldest son, Damian's first friend when we moved to Cambridge in 2007. She was such a beautiful spirit inside and out. All the kids flocked to her whenever she walked out of her house. I remember when Damian and Scotty taught her how to do a trick on the skateboard and she nailed it the first time! Cassidy was one of the kids from Cattail who will always hold a special place in my heart. My deepest thoughts and prayers go out to her family and friends.

“ Cassidy was like a sister to me senior year during cheerleading, our rides home after practice were full of laughter and silly stories. Any time I saw her, she had a smile on her face and was the life of the party. She will be truly missed. My thoughts and prayers are with her family. Fly high angel 💕💕

Gail Newcomb - April 16, 2015 at 07:46 AM

“ Cassidy honey, the only reassuring words I can find to say are, "Sometimes God takes our angels, because he's in need of some." You truly were an angel, and way too beautiful of a person to be here on this cold earth. You went peacefully from what I've gathered, and were surrounded by heroic friends who did everything they could. I am so hurt to hear this news, I can't imagine the pain your family and close friends are experiencing; and poor Zach as well. I am so sorry, I thought this was a sick joke, I thought there's no way these people are referring to the Cassidy Stinton I know! Then reality began to sink in and the heartbreak began; reading everyone's pain is nothing compared to the pain they are truly experiencing. I will forever put butter and cinnamon on my toast in loving memory of you. We love you Cass; and your memories will forever be burned into the hearts of the thousands of people who were blessed enough to have met and known an angel! Rest in peace honey, you deserve it.
