“ I cannot tell you how many miles I've ridden with Charlie in my rear view mirror - thousands I know. Some times I wouldn't see him and I'd ask on the CB is Charlie OK and Bernie would come back with yea I'm pushing him. When we stopped he would say Oh I was just looking around. And countless meals we shared and he always waited to order last because he wanted to hear what everyone else was getting because it might sound better than what he was planning. I had only met Charlie a few times when he and Nancy would visit from Florida and we would ride together but once he moved up to Delaware he quickly became a very good friend and someone very dear to my heart. He will be missed more than words can say.
