“ For about the dozenth time, I went online today to try to find my old friends Matt and Chris Meehan, and was profoundly saddened to discover Chris passed away four years ago. I second what Dave Peterson (hello, Dave) said. I recall fondly our obsession with baseball and Strat, the times we attempted to play that game all night in our vain attempt to complete 162 game seasons for 24 teams.... Going to O's games.... Trading record albums and 45s -- which I still have.... Eating all those tacos.... Sandy ("The Boob").... The time playing softball in my back yard and Matt bounced the longest homer off the Cathcarts' garage.... Matt, if you read this, please get in touch when you can. My email is brucewilmot2007@c omcast.net. I hope you and yours are well.

“ Chris will definitely be missed. I have many many memories of Chris from our weekly gatherings with the Meehan family in the Alexandria area, riding the bike trail a number times together up to the National Zoo, Stratomatic games, movie nights, baseball, football, making tacos, listening to music including the marathon Woodstock sessions, Beatles, and so much more. May he Rest In Peace.
