“ To the family of Clyde Lilly:

30 years ago I worked for Clyde at PT O'Malley Lumber during a few of my school breaks. I remember Clyde giving me many opportunities to develop new practical work skills that I never would have had otherwise. To this day, the skills he taught me have stuck with me.

I was always fascinated by Clyde and his lifestyle. During the week, he was all business and very responsible at running the lumber factory. Then, about midday on Fridays, he'd disappear off to his home on the eastern shore for a weekend of fishing and water recreation.

Clyde indeed had a strong work ethic and was honest and straight in all his dealings. As I look back on it, he set a good example for me while I was at a young and influential age.

I would welcome the opportunity to hear from any of Clyde's children. I have a few humerous memories of him, so maybe we can share some.

Please accept my deepest sympathy.

Sincerely,

Mark
