“Cody-while there are no words to describe my lifelong bond with you, I will try to briefly summarize the everlasting impact you have had on my life. From the day you were born you were important and special to me. We spent most every Christmas vacation together and we surely made the most of our time together. You may not have known it at the time but you taught me more about things than I ever could've taught you. You were humble, loving, kind and forgiving no matter what. Choosing a purple candle for your love of the Ravens (who I hope do you proud this season). Knowing that you now have those wings you so deserve brings me comfort knowing you're watching over us all; alongside your Mom. We will do our best to take care of your Dad, fly high Buddy!! You forever have a piece of my heart.
