“ Daniel had endless love for all of his family and friends and animals. He had the most unique soul and was so skilled with art and music. I remember nights when he couldn't sleep, we would talk on the phone while he painted watercolor and drew his unique drawings. Daniel was someone I often found myself alone with in the most random places , talking about the most random things, laughing till we cried, or going off and doing the most spontaneous things that came to his mind. The memory that will always follow me is when Daniel and I spent the day together before Briens candlelight vigil. And that night as we lit the candles and listened to songs we shared with Brien, he sat down next to me and grabbed my hand and smiled at me so innocently with a tear coming down his face. I will never forget that smile or the love he held in his heart.

“ I met this young man and his Dad several years ago at the Point at Pintail sporting clays range when he wanted to try shooting clays. He got hooked on shooting the Wobble trap and at the time we would give a t-shirt for breaking 25 consecutive clays - I believe he won quite a few t-shirts over the year. Daniel was a kindred soul, happy and loved to talk with you. You will be missed young man. Blessings to your family. Mary Ann
