

Dolores Lurana DuPont

September 5, 1930 - February 22, 2022

Dolores Lurana DuPont of Baltimore died on Feb. 22, 2022. She was born on Sept. 5, 1930, in New Rochelle, NY, the daughter of Howard L. DuPont and Katherine L. Barnett. She was educated in Westchester Co., NY, and Baltimore, MD, schools. Dolores graduated first in her class of 1952 from Union Memorial Hospital, the #1 school of nursing in Baltimore and was Operating Room Nurse at U.M.H. and worked in Quality Assurance Program at Mercy Hospital in Baltimore.

Dolores enjoyed doing embroidery, especially "samplers." She loved animals and was interested in helping people. She was very interested in the Caribbean Islands, especially Trinidad and Barbados and greatly enjoyed her trip to Barbados.

The Barnetts were an old Eastern Shore family, and she loved visiting the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland. Besides her Barbados trip, Dolores enjoyed going to England and Wales on the canal boats, traveling up the Mississippi River on the steamboat "The Delta Queen," and trips to California.

Dolores thoroughly enjoyed reading about history and genealogy and received numerous accolades for her research. She contributed to and wrote numerous articles and books on genealogy and history, etc. She was a member of the "Colonial Dames," Manor Lords, and numerous other genealogical and historical societies.

Along with her uncle, Mr. Robert Barnett, Sr., she established the Barnett Family Plot at the Old White Marsh Cemetery near Trappe, MD, on the Eastern Shore where she will be interred.

Tribute Wall

“ Dolores Lurana DuPont

October 26, 2023 at 06:42 PM

“ Dolores Lurana DuPont

January 28, 2023 at 12:44 PM

“ Dolores Lurana DuPont

January 28, 2023 at 08:03 AM

“ Dolores, the Talbot County Free Library Maryland Room Team is lighting a candle for you. May you rest in peace. Thank you for all of the news articles regarding Eastern Shore families, genealogy and history which you have sent to the Maryland Room over the past decades.

TCFL Maryland Room - March 03, 2022 at 12:40 PM

“ June Shortall lit a candle in memory of Dolores Lurana DuPont

June Shortall - February 27, 2022 at 08:09 PM