“ Donnie would ride down to see us on the weekend, never staying long, but always to talk about music. He had a passion for drums and he and Alan would talk for a couple of hours about them. We always knew it was Donnie when "Clifford" came in the drive way. Miss you

“ Dear Don, brother, uncle and great uncle. We are all going to miss the conversations held at the dinner table when we gather together. You made holidays interesting. The statements that came out of your mouth was amazing. Ha, Ha, you always had the boys and I laughing.

Ludwig will now go broke since you will not be buying drums. Along with a few other music store. I know Skinny B will miss you playing the Congo drums on Friday and Saturday nights gigs.

I know you loved my boys to pieces and your great niece too. I am going to miss you my dear brother even all the pain in the ass shit you put me through the last year and half with your health issues. I tried really hard to help you, but the medical profession would not listen to me or help you. I am sorry the last year and half has been trying for you. As it goes, we do not know what God has in store for us until it has all played out.

Don, you have made me a better sister, a better mother and a better person in general. Thank you for sharing your life with me. Your life choices were interesting and as the song goes, "I did It My Way", by Frank Sinatra is all you brother and you weren't going do it any differently.

I love you and will miss you, Mary
