

Doris Marie Santamour

July 15, 1930 - May 10, 2020

Doris Maries Santamour, 89, entered into larger life on May 10, 2020, at Compass Regional Hospice, in Chestertown, MD.

The daughter of Hormidas and Juliette (Langlais) Salvas, of Lowell, MA, Doris taught elementary education in several states and retired after thirty years with the DC Public Schools.

She was predeceased by her husband, Dr. Frank Santamour, Jr., research director at the National Arboretum in DC, and is survived by their son, Frank and his wife, Sue.

Funeral arrangements will be made in Florida at a later date.

Tribute Wall

“ Doris Marie Santamour

October 26, 2023 at 06:42 PM

“ I was one of Frank's lab assistants in the 80s. He enjoyed being in musicals with Doris and thought the sun rose and set around her.

Eliza Shah - September 24, 2023 at 10:13 PM

“ Doris Marie Santamour

January 28, 2023 at 12:44 PM

“ Doris Marie Santamour

January 28, 2023 at 08:03 AM

“ Mrs. Santamour was my 6th grade teacher at Lafayette in 1978-79, after I got kicked out of Blessed Sacrament for being "problematic". For the first time in my entire life, I actually enjoyed that school year. May she rest in peace.

Jerome Bourbon - March 09, 2021 at 07:12 PM

AS

“ Frank and Sue. — My heart goes out to both of you for the loss of your mother. I still can't get it In my head that she is gone. I always teased her that if anyone could make 100, she surely would! Lots of memories have flooded my mind of the fun times we had over the past many years and during her two times of living here in Lakeland, FL. She was quite the Lady. She may have been small in stature, but she could be pretty feisty! We had some great outings at our favorite restaurants and stores. She had an amazing life. Once you met her, she was someone you would never forget. ANDREA SCARBOROUGH, Lakeland, FL

Andrea Scarborough - May 28, 2020 at 10:45 AM

CR

“ Frank and Sue condolences in the loss of you Mother
She was a very interesting person
Enjoyed time with her while here in Swedesboro
Miss Daisy Rest in Peace

Carl Rainear - May 21, 2020 at 06:10 PM