

Edwin Roy Sullivan Jr.

December 28, 1946 - March 18, 2024

Edwin Roy Sullivan, Jr., 77, of Frederick, Maryland, passed away on March 18, 2024, at Frederick Health. Born on December 28, 1946, in Trappe, Maryland, he was the son of the late Edwin Roy Sullivan, Sr., and Gladys Ruby Flint Sullivan. Ed, affectionately known as "Butch," spent his formative years on the Eastern Shore of Maryland until the late 1950s, after which his family relocated to Wilmington, Delaware.

Ed attended John Dickinson High School and upon graduating in 1964, briefly attended The University of Alabama before enlisting in the United States Air Force in 1967. He served with pride and dedication until his retirement in 2006 achieving the rank of Master Sergeant E7, Flight Examiner Loadmaster on C-130 and C-5 cargo planes. During his career, he served in Vietnam, Desert Storm, Operation Just Cause and Bosnia conflicts. Throughout his distinguished 39-year military career, Ed's assignments took him to over 125 countries, fostering his deep appreciation for travel and cultural exchange. He delighted in regaling others with anecdotes from his extensive experiences.

In pursuit of knowledge, Ed pursued further education, graduating from Gaston College in Gastonia, North Carolina, in 1978. A voracious reader, his extensive collection of books and periodicals reflected his diverse interests. Music was another passion of his, with a broad spectrum of artists, including Pat Metheny, Mannheim Steamroller, and Led Zeppelin, filling his home with melodies.

Ed's enthusiasm for automobiles, particularly Corvettes and high-performance vehicles, led to a cherished hobby of collecting model cars. His collection stood as a testament to his lifelong fascination with automotive engineering.

Despite his global adventures, Ed retained a deep connection to his roots in Trappe, Maryland. He cherished the memories of his early years, often engaging in community activities such as playing Jarts, hosting cookouts, churning homemade ice cream, and crabbing for Blue Crabs. It was in these simple pleasures that he found his true sense of belonging.

Edwin Roy Sullivan, Jr., is survived by his daughters, Amy Sullivan of Charlotte, North Carolina, and Jill Weaver of Raleigh, North Carolina, along with her spouse, Eric Weaver. He is preceded in death by his wife Lois Benjamin.

In remembrance of Ed's life, his family requests that any memorial contributions be made to Operation: Coming Home a 501-c3 non-profit organization. This is a joint volunteer project by the Home Builders Association of Raleigh-Wake County and the United States Veterans Corps. “ Although I only got to know Ed for the past 10 years, I feel like it was much longer. I will deeply miss our long conversations of modeling, motorsports past and present, and airforce stories. Ed and I had so much in common that I feel like we were meant to be friends from the moment that we met at a model show all those years ago. It was an absolute pleasure building many model kits for Ed exactly the way that he had envisioned and to see his smile light up the room upon revealing them to him. Rest in peace my friend, I will never forget you.

“ Sully, I also liked flying with you. You treated everyone you flew with fairly on check rides. I also liked when we would be riding in the troop compartment going into Theran, you'd be cutting out photos to show the pallet pushers when they slowed down. You were a good man, and you will certainly be missed. Tell God to wait and see who's following behind you.

“ So sorry to hear this sad news. I graduated from Dickinson with Ed. Have enjoyed his Facebook posts with the beautiful flowers. Haven't seen him in quite a few years. Didn't know he was ill.

“ Without a doubt Sully was one of my favorite people in the squadron! A joy to work with and fun to hang out with. Sully always had a great sense of humor! We had lots of inside jokes. He will be truly missed. What a great friend to so many people, myself included. 😭

“ Sully was a jolly man and a joy to fly with. He was definitely a connoisseur of good food when traveling to foreign destinations. I'll miss my conversations with him. This was kind of a shock because he was on Facebook quite regularly. Rest in peace old friend! See you at the big reunion in the future.
