“ My name is Darline Tongue Marsh and I'm a classmate and friend of her daughter, Libby. I spent time at their former home on State Circle in Annapolis, Md. One of my fondest memory of Ms. Eleanor was when she found out my mother was unable to take me to the MVA to take my driver's test to get my license. Without hesitation, she drove me over, waited until I completed my tests, and was the first to congratulate me on getting my driver's license. Ms. Eleanor was such a wonderful lady and I feel privileged to have known her. My heart and prayers go out to Mr. Noble, Sally, Ken, and all of her grandchildren.

Dear Darlene,
Thank you for your note. I quoted you in my remembrances at the memorial service. It was outdoors on a blustery day. Very pretty, with lots of family and friends. I'm not sure how, but Ken said he'd get in touch with you. I hope all is well, Sally Noble Abbott.
