

Eva Jane Hantman

April 2, 1933 - March 10, 2014

Jane Baldwin Hantman of Chester, MD, age 80 (also known as Iney, Hilda and Noot) passed away on March 10, 2014, at Hospice of Queen Annes in Centreville, MD. She was preceded in death by her late husband, Mel Hantman, in February 2013.

Born on April 2, 1933, in Nantahala, NC, she was the daughter of the late Lyle and Anna Baldwin. She moved from North Carolina to Annapolis, MD, with her sister Chloe Baldwin Edwards in 1950. There she worked and met her husband of 52 years, Melvin Hantman, who was stationed with the U.S. Navy. Together they had four children, John Hantman and his wife Sharon of Milford, DE; Lori Hantman and her husband Paolo Palumbo of Chester, MD; Charles Hantman and his wife Amy of Queenstown, MD; and Chris Hantman and his wife Lisa of Bear, DE.

Jane loved to be with her children and play bingo. She made the best cornbread that everybody raved about and would come from all over just to get a piece of "Miss. Jane's cornbread." She was a great cook and a wonderful mother to her six children and to all who needed a mom. She will be so dearly missed by her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren and all who knew her, especially her cat, Raisin.

Services will be private. Contributions may be made in her name to the Queen

Anne's County Humane & Animal Shelter, 201 Clay Drive, Queenstown, MD

“ We were very saddened to hear of our cousin Jane's passing. She was a very caring person and loved her family very much. Jane read many different types of books. We read a lot of the same books and after we all read a book, there was always a lively discussion about it when we spoke on the phone. Jane loved the garden and she would talk about all the beautiful roses she had around the house. We all liked QVC and when Christmas came, we would talk about all the many different beautiful Christmas items they offered. She will be greatly missed. Alan & Marcia
