“ I got to know George over the past few years because as an ACME shopper I would often see him riding herd on long lines of shopping carts in the most difficult weather...hot, cold, wet, snowy...it didn't matter to George...he did his job and he did it cheerfully I would chat with him and he was always friendly and ready to smile or laugh. I ran into him with his wife one time, and I hope and pray that she gets the emotional support from family that she needs to deal with this major loss. I know that what he did he did for them both, to keep up their lifestyle and give them the security that they needed. He's someone whom I will always remember as an inspiration and a hero, because at an age when many people have given up the fight, he just kept on pushing forward. Rest in peace, George....it was an honor and a joy to know you, and I'll never ever forget you or the courageous example you set for all of us.

“ George and I worked at Acme. He was the nicest guy. I ever met. We always exchanged stories and laughter about our previous jobs. He will always be remembered and missed

“ George worked for me at Yale Sportswear for a number of years. He was both an excellent employee and friend. We shared many stories together both at Yale and when we crossed paths at the Acme store in Easton. George, bless you, rest in peace.
