“ I will miss the daytrips with Mark and his dad. He was a crabcake connoisseur, local historian, navigator and a friend all rolled into one. I always liked how he would ask when we got back to the house " I suppose you boys want a drink?. (Note: We never said "No"). Sipping whiskey on the back deck and watching boats get stuck on the sandbar across from his pier. Fun memories I will cherish forever.

“ I knew Jim from working at John W Tieder, Inc. When he came to the Cambridge office permanently, we would eat lunch together. We always had great conversations and I considered him a good friend. I will keep the family in my prayers.

“ I picked Jim up a few weeks ago and took him to a picnic down Bennett point Road. I totally surprised him, but he was a good sport and said "just let me change my shirt"! I told him one thing I loved about him was his spontaneity!
He will be sorely missed here, but I know he is happy being back with Lois.

“ Mr. Jim would always make a point to ask me how I was. We live out of state, so would see him every few years, but he never forgot to ask. A good man. Bob B.
