“ I first meet Jay when I got out of the service, not having many civilian clothes I wore my navy work uniform everywhere, Jay told me good thing I went into the navy or I'd have nothing to wear. We had some good times and some disagreements but through it all remained friends. I don't think anyone has ever asked Jay for anything and he didn't try to help. One of greatest pleasures was collecting toys for toys for tots at Christmas. Buddy you'll be missed for sure, your legacy definitely lives on through Jen and Megan ❤️

“ Jen, I had many fond memories of Jay. It started with him being my Little League baseball coach on the Jaycee's ball team. Him and Loody Nelson coached us on the Little League ball field behind the Methodist Church. They got the biggest kick out of coaching me, my brothers and many of the kids that grew up in downtown Centreville. He got to know many of the kids in town from coaching ball. As the years went on Jay was a "regular" for us at Hillside Crabhouse. We use to laugh many times talking about all of the different episodes during our Little League days. He constantly reminded me of my "red Converse Chuck Taylor" sneakers with our green & white uniforms. For many years he use to stop and talk to me at the gas station. Jay also bought many crabs from me over the years when they had the ":Fox Hunt" on the farm. He wanted to make sure everyone had the best time. He was a great friend.

“ I've known Jay since I was 10 year old kid. Jay was always larger than life to me, a great hunter, a great farmer, a great story teller and most important a great friend. I will always cherish our time together having a drink or to, telling hunting stories, singing in the club house and dancing around the club house every time Wooly Bully was playing. My honored treasure was making him pot roast every November 29th for his birthday. He would say Rob-eh, that smells and tastes just like my Mother used to make. I will miss you my friend, you were so brave and never complained when you were fighting this demon. I know you are no longer in pain however, my selfishness wishes you were still here. My only consolation was I had you in my life for 50 years. Rest well my friend, they are in the decoys, wait for em, take em boys. I Love You Jay, ALWAYS!

“ Condolences to all of Jay's family. Lots of great times and memories with Jay. Hunting, get togethers and hours of him sharing his lifetime of stories growing up and living here in Centreville. I could listen for days. He would do anything for you. Jay was good people, and will be sorely missed. Rest Easy Brother.

We are so very sorry to hear of Jay's passing. We have many memories of Jay , we were fortunate enough to be his neighbors twice. May he Rest In Peace, be whole again, with no more pain no more pain. Jay lived life to the fullest and was a proud father and grandfather. May your memories comfort you during this difficult time.

“ Thinking of all Jay's loved ones at this tender time. Jay was truly a legend of his time as I know from my grandpa called Jay, good people. Bryan Grimes had some fun loving stories with Jay too. Jay left an immeasurable legacy in his children & grandchildren for sure. Will always be remembered

“ I have many great memories as a boy spending days with Jay at Needwood Farm and playing in the barn that always had a loft full of hay bales, good for Making tunnels and forts. There were fox hounds and coon hounds in pens, always barking when we went near, eager for a playful rub behind the ear. I remember the cold attic rooms and hallways of that huge farm home (really two houses built together) where only the occupied rooms were heated. And I remember later when his father was Sheriff and they lived at the old jail in town, going up into the cell block, just us two kids, and talking with the inmates just like we were old acquaintances. One fellow, who didn't seem at all upset by his predicament, good-naturedly taught us card tricks, reaching his arms through the bars of his cell and laying the cards out in front of us as we sat cross-legged on the hard tile floor. He was my friend and I'm sad to learn of his death.
