“ I was deeply saddened when I heard the news of Jessie's passing. The mention of her name brings back many fond memories from our youth. Of playing together as children, of christmas's spent at Pop Pops and Grandmas, or just hanging out. Although I had not seen her in years she will be missed. My sympathy goes out to Lauren, her family and Aunt Shirley, Cheryl and Kurt. You are in my prayers.##imported-begin##Debbie Daffin Denton##imported-end##

“ Jess has been in my thoughts a lot lately. I don't get home often, but the last time I was there a mutual friend asked me if I'd seen her. I hadn't, and I'm so sorry now that I didn't get a chance to hook up with her. We had some really good times when we were growing up. I remember a younger cousin who could be terribly funny, hopelessly stubborn, sometimes exasperating, but I've always thought that she was really sweet. We grew apart as we got older, so its been years since I've seen her. She looks so beautiful in her picture, and I'm filled with sadness that she's gone. Wherever you are, Jess, I wish you peace and joy. Love, Terri##imported-begin##Teresa Daffin Blackwell##imported-end##

“ Lauren, Many years of our lives were spent apart and we did not get to enjoy the relationship that sisters should. Your mom always made sure that we knew about each other and the first time I ever remember meeting you was thanks to your mom bringing us together. When I look at your mom, I see you. Not just in the beauty that the two of you share but in your hearts aswell. For that reason your mom lives on forever in you and will in your children aswell. Through the way you raise them your mom will touch their lives. She has left behind so much more than memories for you to cherish, but a legacy for you to carry on. I thank your mom for bringing us together, I am grateful to have a sister like you. Your mom did a wonderful job with you, as you are with your own children. Jessica always made it a point to make me feel cared for, and that I will forever cherish. I love you sis. -Brooke###imported-begin##Brooke Walker###imported-end##
