“ Joe I had no idea about Joanne's passing. I sent a card to the house of prayer after I talked to Maryann. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. She touched the life of so many people and I know she is in the arms of Jesus. She certainly was a blessing to me and I see her beautiful smile and love she had for everyone. “ I had the privilege of looking at some of Joanne's journals when we thought there was a book that needed to be written. It never came together. I regret that--but truthfully, it was tough trying to distill so much living, learning and overcoming into one small book. Which of her many life and spiritual lessons and experiences were to be put in or left out? I grappled with that and never seemed to hear clearly what the Lord would have us do.

Meanwhile, she continued to minister at the House of Prayer and Healing to a steady parade of people our Lord brought into her life who just needed help -- deliverance, a true path, or just loving encouragement. Not a book, not just a prayer. But loving arms, a gift of hope and a gentle, joyful nature that conveyed the love of God as purely as any earthly vessel ever could.

There was so much in her journals about what she had been taught, what she had walked through, what the Lord meant to her. They are, indeed, a rich inheritance for her family that will comfort, teach and guide many in days and generations to come.

We grieve the loss of Joanne's joyful, wise, loving and generous spirit, but we, her friends, suspect that her ministry to all of us and her family will continue as she speaks on our behalf now, finally, face to face with her Lord and heavenly Father.

With love to Joe and all of their children, daughters and sons-in-law, grandchildren, and brothers and sisters--Jan Hardin###imported-begin###Jan Hardin###imported-end##

“ We deeply grieve with you over the loss of Joanne, what a prayer warrior. I was in Aglow with her many years, and blessed by her presence, her dancing unto the Lord, her sweet countenance, her grace, and most of all her love for so many. She has been in our hearts and prayers as well as you , her precious family. May God comfort you with the knowledge that soon and very soon we are all going to see the King. She just got there a little before us. God bless and comfort all of you. Joanne will be deeply missed for she was so deeply loved.
