“ Joel, we miss you at the rink. Always with a smile and a fist bump from your designated spot in the locker room by the door. You were never shy about coming to the defense of a teammate. And that booming slapshot! Rest in Peace my friend.

“ He was a work of art to see in the kitchen. In the years I spent with him at Town Dock under Michael Rork, I always remember seeing a flurry of saute pans being worked like a director of the orchestra. And he was an old soul I think. I always remember a sense of calmness and a joy of life about him. My sympathies go out to his family and many friends. He will be so missed.
