“ It is always a shock to lose someone you have grown up with in the community even though you knew that that friend had had many medical challenges in recent years.

We have kept in close touch with John and family since our children were friends growing up and through attending church together.

Over the years we would enjoy going to "Three Little Baker's Dinner Theatre" together. The food and entertainment was great and on a couple of occasions a couple of our children were brought up on stage for some type of dance or a funny joke to participate in! Such wonderful memories. Through the years we would travel to their house during the holiday season for Sammie's signature vegetable beef soup and hot apple cake. I remember one year I asked John what his favorite cake was and he responded chocolate with chocolate icing. I made the cake from scratch having to melt the chocolate squares as the preparation was more complicated than I had anticipated! He really seemed to enjoy that cake and would mention it over the following years! John was a passionate man: he loved his family; his community; his job as a correctional officer; the family's high-yielding garden behind their home in Barclay; Dale Earnhardt; and yes, his beloved country. He showed his love and care for others in quiet ways. He would always get up very early especially during the winter months to defrost Sammie's windshield when frost and ice would accumulate making her trip to school very difficult. He so enjoyed spending time with the grandchildren and supported them with their sports and musical endeavors. Thanks John for the memories and thank you for your service to this great country. Don't worry about the garden...Sammie's got it covered. Rest in peace, "Johnny K". Ann and Bob Campbell and family, Sudlersville, MD

“ I will miss seeing and teasing Mr. Crossley at the Sudlersville Senior Center. He was such a nice man and seemed to enjoy being at the center, even the days he just sat and watched. May he rest in peace and may his family be comforted.
