“ Lighting a candle now in memory of John E. When I worked with John's sister Carol and his niece Melissa in hospice care, there was sadness at the end of a life, but also overwhelming love. May the love of God, family, and friends wrap you in its arms and holds you up in your time of grief. Carol, no one could have been a more loving sister or a better advocate.

“JR”, I found was the name his sister, Carol called him. I called him that several times during his last days and his lips curled up a bit. He was such a true gentleman, peaceful, never complaining or wanting. Only knowing him toward the end, I saw his spirit was loving and unassuming. The love that he gave was returned over and over by his neice, Melissa, who rarley left his side, his sister Carol a loving sister and advocate in his care. I was privildedged to have been included with John and his family as he graciously passed his spirit on the the Lord. Peace to all who knew him.
