“ Jack and I were classmates at the University of Minnesota and fraternity brothers in Phi Mu Alph medical fraternity. We carpooled the preclinical first two years in Jack's 1959 Volkswaggon beetle and were bridge partners in the frat house between classes. We became close friends so that Jack was one of three groomsmen in my wedding. We then went our separate ways in medicine, but did reconnect when I learned we were both living and working late in our careers on the Eastern Shore of the Chesapeake Bay in Maryland, Jack in radiology in Easton while I was in nephrology in Chestertown. I enjoyed his company and valued his friendship. He was a good doctor and a good man. May he rest in peace.
