“ I went to school with Joe from 1st grade through High School. Growing up on an Army Ordnance Depot on the prairie of SW South Dakota (where his Dad was the "Chief of Police"), Joe and I were very often on the same "team" or in the same classes. In school, he and I had an informal, friendly competition on who could read the most books in the library. My first ever "overnighter" was spent at Joe's house and then his folks took us on my first ever "out of state" trip....to Cheyenne, WY. To say that I "looked up" to Joe would be an understatement as I topped out at 5'7" and Joe was listed as 6'4" or maybe 6'6" on b-ball programs. He was a stalwart center figure on our outstanding hoops teams and a great stallion of a running back in football. One game, I remember against Lusk, Wyo. the coach called Joe's number on about 8-9 straight "up the middle" runs....5-8 yards on every one. Joe was an excellent student. A good friend and an outstanding athlete. His boys were lucky to have such a fine father.

“ I never knew Joseph Marsh Jr. but his mom and dad Claudia and Joe Marsh would talk about their children often to us girls at the drive-in. They often came to the Conee Corral they were like second parents to us. Joe took me horseback riding many times he was always such a gentleman he always saddle the horse and unsettled it even though he knew I knew how to do it. I am sorry for your loss my prayers and thoughts are with you during this time

“ I didn't know Joseph well, only met him once or twice, but I knew his Dad, Joe Marsh in Custer, SD for many years. Joe Sr. was a very good friend and shared many stories of his lifetime, flying, and stories of his dad who was with the Indian Police in northcentral South Dakota. My sincere condolences to Joseph's family and friends.
