“ Karen, Fred, and Steph,

It was with profound sadness that I learned of the passing of your mother. She was a special lady and loved by many; including myself and my parents. I pray that you as well as your spouses, children, and extended family are granted God's peace and comfort during this difficult time.

Even gifted theologians can't truly say they know or fully discerns why bad things happen to those whom we love, for now, it will have to remain the painful mystery that it is, and it's one of the many things that I ask God to help me understand.

Losses like this can make us challenge our faith; however, this is precisely the time when our faith needs to be its strongest. Knowing that even in the darkest hour God is in control and working all things to our benefit.

May you rest assured in the comfort that your Mother was a believer in the power of the resurrection and is an heir of Salvation that was purchased on her behalf by the blood, sacrifice, and grace of our Lord Jesus Christ.

In so much as this world is a lesser place without your mother here among us, let us live in the comfort that as believers we will see her again in the glory of heaven.

My condolences, thoughts, and prayers are with you and your family.

Love,

*The Ridgleys

“ This was you, a light that led others to The Light of the World, not only with words, but with your example, with how you lived your life serving others. Words can't describe how much you will be missed, but we cling to the promises that we will see you again. The love and wisdom you shared will continue to enrich and encourage us for the rest of our lives. We learned so much from you about family. Yours meant everything to you. Our heart goes out to them as they begin life without you. We pray they receive the comfort that can only be found in the Comforter. See you on the Streets of Gold dear Lady Lee 💕
