

M. Eleanor D. Patterson

February 14, 1928 - December 19, 2014

Eleanor D. Patterson died on December 19, 2014, at University of Maryland Medical Center in Easton. She was 86.

M. Eleanor Patterson was born on February 14, 1928, in Baltimore, MD, to the late Winfield S. Ditch and Mary L. Smith Ditch. She attended Brynmawr School, graduating Class of 1946. She then continued her education at Goucher College. In 1958, she began working as a research assistant in advertising and later began a career as an editor. She was an editor for the Department of Psychology at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine and, later, an associate editor of publication for the Walters Art Gallery.

On October 23, 1965, Mrs. Patterson married George Patterson and resided in Northern Baltimore County. In 1977, she and her husband moved to Oxford, MD, to enjoy life near the Chesapeake Bay. While residing in Oxford, she continued her editing career working for Cornell Maritime Press and Yacht Magazine.

She is survived by one brother, Luther Ditch of Towson, MD; and two nieces, Susan Little of Lyons, CO, and Katherine Callen of Baltimore, MD.

She was predeceased by her brother, Scott Ditch.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Talbot Hospice House, 586 Cynwood Drive, Easton, MD 21601.

Services will be held at a later date. Arrangements are being handled by Fellows, Helfenbein and Newnam Funeral Home, Easton.
