

Mabel E. Workman

July 18, 1910 - June 11, 2008

Mabel Eva Workman, age 97, died June 11, 2008, at the Chester River Manor, Chestertown, MD.

Born in Lincoln, DE, she lived most of her adult life in Trenton, NJ. The oldest of eight children, she is survived by her son, James E. O'Harrah, Sr. and his wife, Janet, of Kennedyville, MD; two grandchildren, Jennifer L. Magdelinkas and her husband, William of Langhorne, PA; and LCD James E. O'Harrah, Jr and his wife, Carri, of Fernandina Beach, FL; and four great grandchildren. Additionally, she is survived by two sisters, Eva Robinson of San Angelo, TX and Ruth Blosch of Bensalem, PA and several nieces and nephews.

Ms. Workman was one of the first licensed practical nurses in the Country and worked in the healthcare field her entire career. She enjoyed spending time with her many friends and expanded family in southern Delaware. She loved to crochet, was an avid crafter and completed the genealogy of the Workman family.

A funeral service was held June 16, 2008, at the J. Allen Hooper Funeral Chapel, Morrisville, PA with interment in the Morrisville Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorial contributions be made to the United Way of Kent County Maryland, PO Box 594, Chestertown, MD, 21620.
