“ Several years ago a very nice guy came to our house to install a fence from Shore Patio and Fence. During conversation, I learned he had attended Washington College long after me. We had a really interesting talk about college days in spite of the large time between college attendance. I was so shocked and saddened to read in the recent Washington College Magazine about his passing. I am so very sorry to learn of this, but grateful he had his family in the college area to be with him.

“ There are very few people that cross our paths in life that the mere mention of their name can still bring a smile and a laugh. Mark was one of those unique people. I must admit that when I saw the news that he had passed, I wasn't smiling or laughing. Such a strong sense of sadness washed over me. Even though I hadn't seen him in years, his image in my mind was as I had remembered him in high school. Smiling, laughing and notorious for getting me in trouble for laughing. My deepest sympathies to his family and friends for their loss. May God bless you all and I will be praying that God sends you the strength that you're going to need to get through the coming days.
