“ I met MJ many many years ago when both first got into Real Estate. She was such a hoot to put it mildly, but it was always a pleasure to hear from her and talk with her about the business and our personal lives. She was a one of a kind for sure and she'll be sorely missed by many in the real estate business and also those who she helped find their forever homes. Rest in peace, my friend.

“ I believe I met MJ in 1988 or 1989 at an open house I was holding in Southwinds. We connected immediately and decided we would be friends even though I was with Prudential at the time. She was one of my draws to Long and Foster when I made the move in February of 1991. This is so hard because she was like an older sister to me over all these years. I'm going to miss her terribly. She's up there with Queen Elizabeth (I always called her an anglophyle) whose picture hung in the back side window of her Subaru. I hope there are some sweet little Corgis up there too. Rest with God my dear friend. Lynn Collins
