

Mary Gaede Mowbray

January 26, 2001

Mary Gaede Mowbray, formerly of Philadelphia, PA, died on January 26, 2001 in Magnolia Hall. She was 94 years old.

She was the daughter of the late Dr. Anton Henry Gaede and Margaret MacNeil Gaede and the widow of Andrew Milton Mowbray, all of Philadelphia. When Mrs. Mowbray's health failed in 1995, she moved to Chestertown, MD to be with her stepdaughter Elaine and Robert Naper.

An avid bridge player and member and former officer of the Women's Bridge League of Philadelphia, PA. Mrs. Mowbray played on the LuLu Temple Country Club duplicate bridge team for many years. As a golfer, she was credited with not one hole-in-one but three and was a member of the Philadelphia Golf Association's Hole-in-One Club. She was a Meals-on-Wheels volunteer for 17 years.

In addition to her stepdaughter, she is survived by her step-granddaughters Susan Knight Caswell of Germantown and Barbara Knight of Sliver Spring, MD and her nephews Anton Henry Gaede 3rd and Thomas McKay Gaede and their families of Alabama.

A memorial service and interment will be held in Philadelphia, PA at a later date.
