Judy, I am so sorry that you have lost your lovely sister, Nan. We all loved her at the Pi Phi house, during the '50's full of light and laughter! We knew Jim as well.. in fact, I caught a glimpse of him crossing the street in Easton, in the 90's, wearing Bermuda shorts and handsome as ever! Love to you, love to her children.

“ I remember her innate kindness and grace. At the time of Uncle Jim's funeral, she had asked that we stay at their home. She was grieving and yet, so attentive to us. That was just who she was. Everytime we were in any of their homes over the years, she was a wonderful hostess. I have quite a few memories of her over the years.

I will especially remember her beauty, her grace, her intelligence, and her kindness. Near the end of my dad's life, we called Nan so they could talk. They were both a bit confused but still had a wonderful conversation. RIP, Aunt Nan.
