“ I am so saddened to know of this family's loss. My warmest and funniest memories are of Nathan as a child and young man. I always enjoyed conversation with him, even as a child; he was just so bright and had a very inventive imagination. One funny story involved, "the very hot chicken McNuggets burning holes in his carpet." For me, personally, I am so happy that he was able to have, in spite of his personal struggles, a wonderful, loving wife and a loving and supportive family. I have very clear pictures of Nathan in my mind's eye that will allow me to enjoy some really great memories of him. I will think of him at peace. Kim Davis

“ He was one of the most generous people I have ever known. He loved to fish - but I never saw someone worry so much about getting seasick on the Chesapeake!
