

Paul Mark Carroll

May 14, 1939 - January 5, 2025

Paul Mark Carroll of Easton, Maryland died on Sunday, January 5th, 2025. Paul, the first of three children, was born in Boston, Massachusetts on May 14, 1939 (Mother's Day) to Margaret Mary Hurley and Patrick Joseph Carroll. He attended Parish Schools and the regional Matignon High School where he enjoyed being a four-year varsity player, Captain of the football team and a class officer.

Paul, true to his indomitable spirit, worked his way through Boston College, graduating with an AB degree in English Literature and related fields in Classic Language and Finance.

He was drafted into the US Army and served in the Army Security agency. As Paul completed his Military Service, he met Susan Kelley and the rest is history.

Paul and Susan married on April 18, 1964, he accepted a position with Chrysler Motors Corporation, and he and Susan relocated to Vermont. Two darling sons were born there. Soon he transferred his employment to Eastman Kodak and relocated to Pennsylvania.

Their third son was born here, The Carroll family moved to several other towns in Pennsylvania and then settled in Annapolis, Maryland, where they remained for 30 years, Paul not willing to relocate his family again. His career with Eastman Kodak involved working with the Federal Government and serving as Business Development Manager.

The boys thrived in the Annapolis area, making many lifelong friends, and excelling in academics and athletics. Paul became their first coach as they enjoyed sports as young boys. Later, as they played sports in both high school and college, he became their biggest fan.

In retirement Paul and Susan relocated to Easton, Maryland. As the years continued, Paul became a founding and charter member of the Institute of Adult Learning at Chesapeake College. As a Docent at the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum for more than 20 years, Paul studied the history of "The Bay," was an original member of the Tuesday CBMM Study Group and was a favorite Tour Leader with CBMM visitors.

Continuing with his love of learning, Paul facilitated classes at the Academy of Lifelong Learning. Much as Paul was a fan of his sons' athletic and academic pursuits, he was also a fan for his grandchildren's activities, both athletic and academic. To his beloved grandchildren he was Grampy, King of pizza, pancakes and funny stories and songs.

As evidenced by his presence in their lives, Paul's greatest love was his family. This is his greatest legacy.

Paul was predeceased by his parents, Peg and Joe Carroll and his brother, Joe Carroll.

He leaves to cherish his memory his loving wife and best friend Susan, their three sons and their families: Mark, and his wife Holly, their family, Mackenzie and Stevie Kirkup and their children: Charlotte and Sophie; Katie and Phil Lyon and their son Beau; and Elizabeth Carroll: their son Jay, his wife Sheri and their sons Jake and Thomas, and their son Ben and his partner Julie. Paul also leaves his sister Mary Beth, her husband Jim Doherty and their children, their spouses and their families and his sister-in-law- Carole Carroll and her daughter and her husband and son and his family.

To honor the memory of Paul, continue to spend time with your family and friends and serve your community.

“ I worked with Paul at Eastman Kodak and deeply saddened by his passing. Paul’s professional life was marked by integrity, commitment, and a sharp intellect that earned him the respect and admiration of everyone he worked with. At Eastman Kodak’s Washington, D.C. office, he was known not only for his technical expertise but for his quiet leadership and steady presence. He was the kind of colleague who made the workplace better—through his professionalism, his humor, and his unwavering kindness. He will be missed. Jack Burton

“ Paul lived a life that was outwardly simple but inwardly rich and showed how one man could inspire in others a powerful sense of belonging, family and friendship. He will live forever in the memories -- and hopefully, the deeds -- of every life he touched. he will in mine !
