“ To the Tapper family: I know you feel a great loss at this time but recall all the good times you had with your 'husband', 'dad', and 'grandfather'. No one can take the memories away and they do heal your aching heart. I especially remember his love of the horses when I was a little girl and spent my summers at the 'grandparents home'. He is with our Lord now and at peace. One day we will all be together again. Love and my prayers, Cora S. King

“ We can only imagine the excitement that Mr. Tapper must have experienced yesterday morning as he entered into the presence of Jesus Christ, his Lord and Savior. He is rejoicing around the throne and can SEE all the beauty that God has prepared for his children. Though we all feel a sense of loss, we can only be happy for Mr. Tapper. Our prayers go out to all of the family that remain here waiting for the day of reunion with Mr. Tapper.
