“ *To family,
Please accept my deepest sympathy . Remember our God Jehovah is near to those that are broken at heart.”—Psalm 34:18.
God’s Word, the Bible, provides the greatest comfort of all. The Christian apostle Paul stated: “I have hope toward God . . . that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous.” (Acts 24:15) Thinking about the Bible-based hope of a resurrection can be the greatest comfort while grieving the loss of a loved one.*

“Dr. D., as he was affectionately called by his students, was a very patient and methodical professor. His kindness and patience was thoroughly appreciated by his students, especially those that "didn't get" chemistry. For those that not only got it, but enjoyed studying the subject, Dr. D consistently pushed us further, prodded us to think more deeply and imagine questions that we could answer through research.

I for one, am a better graduate student because of Dr. D. The field of chemistry education has suffered a great loss. However, I am grateful to have learned from him.

Rest in peace. The rest of us will carry on with the work..
