“ Chris,
It seems like yesterday we were all hanging out at your anual Halloween Party and going on our many adventures. I can't express how much you will be missed by all but I know you are looking down on us and will give us the strength we need to overcome this difficult time. I cant believe we have lost such a great person.

Jamie,
I know we did not know each other that well, but just know that i am here for you and Neveah if you ever need anything, and I know that Chris is watching over you and Neveah and will give you the strength you need to push forward.

“ I hesitated 100 times writing something here.....it's so hard to find the words when your heart is so heavy....but here I am and I feel as if I can no longer NOT say what is in my heart. Sometimes if you are lucky, certain people come along and touch your life....they remind you what "good" is.....what "caring and compassionate" mean, they show you a side of humanity that you thought no longer existed and remind you of all that is "right" in the world. I was blessed and fortunate enough to have met such a person. He was not my BFF, we didn't hang out every night, he was once my co-worker and ALWAYS my friend. I told him often that "I adored him" and I did. His heart was larger than life, he treated everyone with respect and a smile. My life was graced by knowing him and will never be the same now that he is gone. I have cried more tears in the past few days than I have in many many years. Many would say "Rest In Peace" but I believe deep within my heart that you have only just begun so spread your wings, you have been called home and God has big plans for you.....not only were you an angel here on earth but now a true angel in heaven. Thank you for being you and touching my life the way that you did, you will never be forgotten ?

My deepest condolences to his family and many many friends, Nevaeh has a whole extended family looking out for her, I think I speak for most when I say that we will carry on Chris's big heart as we watch over her <3

“ To Jamie, Neveah and all of Chris' family. I know there are no words to comfort the pain of what you are going through. Jamie, I remember when you and Chris got together. Inseperable and totally in love. And look at that beautiful little miracle of a girl you two made together. I take comfort in knowing that she will always know what a wonderful Daddy she had through stories from his friends and loved ones. My heart and prayers go out to you all. Rest in Peace, Chris Jones. Everyone that knew him has gained another angel to look over them and his memory will always live on in his beautiful daughter and family.
