“ Well nona we are getting up to the 9 year anniversary this coming October. One of my most favorite cherishable memories of you is how you sang these cute little things, like jingles or little riddles. I still smell you on your purse, scarf, pictures.. every piece of you I have. I miss cooking with you, on holidays the most. Your cooking was the best. Still is, always will be my favorite home made meals. I remember you talking me to the moose lodge as just a toddler and letting me get up on that huge stage by myself and I sang gretchen wilson, or p!nk. And you were my biggest supporter. Theres never enough room for me to put what all I would say to you. It's not fair. I do realize that it isnt fair but I am fine with it because I know you arent in pain. I know you're here with me.. maybe not in physical life, but in spirit. I am assured that youre always with me. I miss you so much, one day I can feel your warm loving embrace and love again. Take it easy Breezy.

I love you always nona.

“ Nona,
3 years and 9 days since I have seen you or heard your voice. I can not believe it's been 3 years now. I can't even describe the pain I feel or the sadness that I carry. I know you're in a better place with mommom, happy pappy, aunt Libby, and grandpa Ray. What brings me the most relief about you leaving me is that now I know that you are pain free. Hell, you're probably out on the boat with happy pappy and a random animal pet and a cooler with a few cold ones. You are the best grandmother a girl could ask for. You are my best friend. I think about you every day. All the random Dennys trips for the soup and sandwich lunches, and cig runs to Seaford, post office trips and our candy and ice cream stops..I will always cherish. You've taught me so much about life. You taught me how to be a woman. You watched me grow, helped me through literally everything and we're my biggest fan. I'm lucky that you were my grandma, I could never picture a bond like you and I have with somebody else.

I love you Nona

Your granddaughter, Carliebarly.
